General Description and Soil Analysis

The dominant soil profile in this area is as follows:

A horizon - 0 to 15 cm; dark grayish brown (10YR 4/2) dry, very stony sandy loam, very dark brown (10YR 2/2) moist; weak fine granular structure; friable; 10 percent pebbles, 15 percent cobbles, 30 percent stones; clear wavy boundary. (Range in thickness 5 to 20 cm)

B horizon - 15 to 55 cm; grayish brown (10YR 5/2) dry, very stony sandy loam, dark grayish brown (10YR 4/2) moist; very weak, coarse subangular blocky structure; 10 percent pebbles, 15 percent cobbles, 35 percent stones; irregular boundary. (Range in thickness 25 to 65 cm)

Chronology of Excavation

- 5 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C1 (stylobate exposed last year) from 2003
 - Starting elevation = 131.76 to 131.24
 - Ending elevation = 131.15 – 131.36
 - Soil is Horizon A and B
 - Began clearing destruction fill (weeds, topsoil, weathered stones)
- 6 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C1
 - Starting elevation = 131.15 – 131.36
 - Ending elevation = 130.97
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Ran across several corbels (four so far in the destruction fill of C1 and one on the floor of D3 recovered last year). Hypothesis: the north aisle was covered with a stone roof as in a number of churches from Syria (e.g., Qalb Lozeh, St. George at Ezra). The roof was held up by corbels.
- 6 Sept 04: Began work in Square C2 (east half)
 - Starting elevation = 131.00-131.07
 - Ending elevation = 130.70
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Similar destruction fill
 - A number of worked angular pieces of various sizes used in arches and for a dome
- 7 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C2 (western half)
 - Starting elevation = 131.0
 - Ending elevation = 130.66
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Did contact one section of mosaic tile, seemingly all white, displaying a circular pattern in one section. Elevation 130.63. Recovered.
- 7 Sept 04 Continued work in Square C1

- Starting elevation = 130.97
- Ending elevation = 130.76
- Soil is Horizon B
- Bench continues to the east, with plaster patches on its upper surface
- As fallen corbels were removed, two additional corbels were revealed that were tipped out from the wall. One of the corbels removed had plaster on its upper face. Therefore, the corbels were NOT used to hold up the roof. Rather, they were in secondary use in the north wall (W521).
- Width of the aisle and the lack of any double-sided corbels (for use above the arches of the colonnade) reinforce the hypothesis that the corbels were in secondary use.
- 8 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C2
 - Starting elevation = 130.66
 - Ending elevation = 130.55
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Finished destruction level of C2 of now typical fill (soil and block fragments)
- 9 Sept 04: Began work in Square D2
 - Starting elevation = from 131.28 in the west to 130.94 in the east.
 - Ending elevation = 103.64 (next to W511) to 130.59
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Removed most of the destruction fill in the square. It was mostly soil with occasional stones, especially closer to W511.
 - Recovered a fragment of chancel screen with vine pattern similar to the first fragment.
 - After approaching W511, it is hard to discern from the inside if a door exists. The wall seems of very poor quality, if it is indeed a wall. Suggest a trench in E2 to clarify.
- 12 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C2

- Starting elevation = 130.55
- Ending elevation = 130.64 (mosaic), 130.57 (pebble base)
- Soil is Horizon B
- Began uncovering mosaic beginning from the chancel screen base and working in a westerly direction
- Burned wood and nails from on west edge of square C2 are a modern intrusion (buried garbage) as a candy wrapped was found with them.
- Next to the chancel screen base, most of the mosaic is gone. Only the pebble base and a few small areas remain.
- 13 Sept 04: Continued work in Square C2
 - Starting elevation = 130.64 (mosaic), 130.57 (pebble base)
 - Ending elevation = 130.50-130.53 (most mosaic), 130.63 (mosaic in SE corner of square)
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Continued to clear the floor
 - Mostly a cobble base
 - Some swirls (circles) in patches of remaining mosaic
 - Likely we are seeing two separate mosaic layers as there can be as much as 10 cm of difference in elevation and some mosaic is heavily coated with plaster.
 - In one section of C2 the two layers are clearly visible overlaying each other
 - Upper mosaic is at elevation 130.62
 - Lower mosaic is at elevation 130.57
- 14 Sept 04: Continued work in Square D2
 - Starting elevation = 103.64 (next to W511) to 130.59
 - Ending elevation = 130.58 (mosaic on north side near W511) to 130.65 (mosaic on south side near W511)
 - Soil is Horizon B
 - Swept the rest of the dirt from F544.

- Two different layers of mosaic are visible in a fragmentary way as in C2.
- The top layer has a fan pattern as in the NWC
- Lower level has a guilloche (see the south aisle from last year) and some larger swirls
- Condition of the floor in C2 and D2 is quite fragmentary. Major conservation is needed.

Architectural Items
